

Choquequirao Tour

- Ideal for: Those who are interested in something a little off the main tourist trail or for people interested in the latest archaeological discoveries
- Departs: Daily
- Trip Length: 5 days
- Accommodation: Camping

More expeditionary in nature than the Salkantay or Independent Inca Trail, however this is a tour open to all. Choquequirao is a relatively new discovery and only 30% of this vast ruin has been uncovered. This site is larger than Machu Picchu. Be one of the first to visit!!

The site occupies a ridge spur about 1600m above the raging Apurimac River. Please note that this is a camping trip, and all accommodation is tented. Meals are provided during the trek and are provided by our support staff. Access to this site is limited, and this is a special trek for those looking for something different.
